

Gramley Library
Salem College
Winston-Salem, NC 27108

Six hundred people, two hundred and fifty-seven days, and eighteen buildings make one year at Salem College . . . but there is more to the story . . . there are many places, many times . . .

autumn — a time and place for making a beginning

and reflecting on the past against a season dying, but promising return.

winter —

a time

and place

for growth and thought

against a season of security and responsibility

spring —

a time and place
for one alone,
two together,
or many —

meeting,

relating,

understanding,

growing.

summer—

a time and place
for preparing and examining,
reaching out,
and stepping forward

into the future.

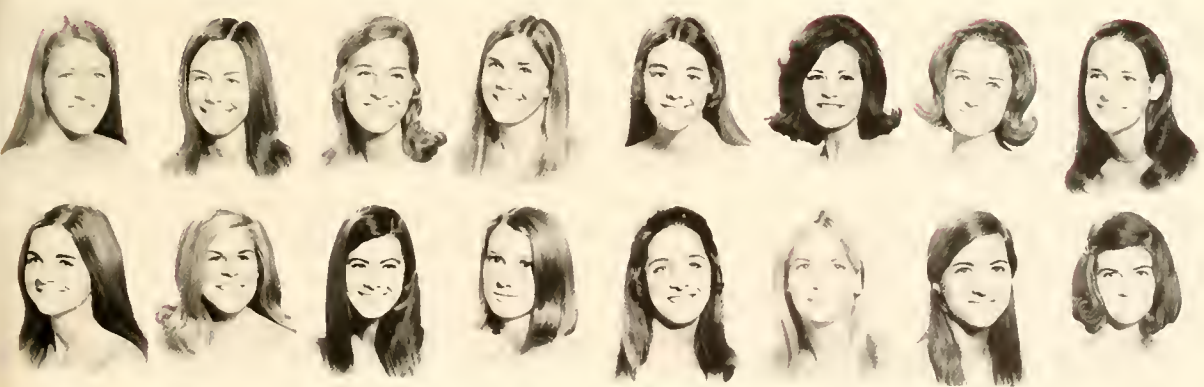

Salem's autumn — at this point the ending of your past and the beginning of your future . . . unfamiliar but not for long . . . fair ladies in fatigues . . .

Clark Thompson, Professor of Religion and College Chaplain.

He is a thinker, a man of action . . .
 he is a planner, a mover, a shaper . . .
 he is a friend, an adviser, a teacher . . . in his own words, "Teaching is my life. If I fail in my teaching at school one day I take it home with me and if something goes wrong in the classroom it is not forgotten." By speaking, he challenges; by listening, he advises; by thinking he motivates. For the things he does, but more for the man he is, the Senior Class dedicates the 1971 SIGHTS AND INSIGHTS to Clark
 Thompson.

The year 1970-71, the 199th since Salem's opening, was a roller-coaster-type year: up and down, around a curve, then up and down again before peaking near year's end with announcement of a new President. It was up for Founder's Day and FITS, then down as routines and mid-semester exams loomed ahead. But up again with Christmas activities, down in January and around a dangerous curve as self-scheduling exams hit rough and uncertain going. Up again with student elections, with 4-1-4 plans for next year, and with snow on the day Spring Recess started. And then speedily on to year's end.

In another sense, enrollment was down, petitions were up; dress standards were down (according to the retiring President), but interest was up as students and faculty discussed all sorts of academic matters in the one-day mini-symposium.

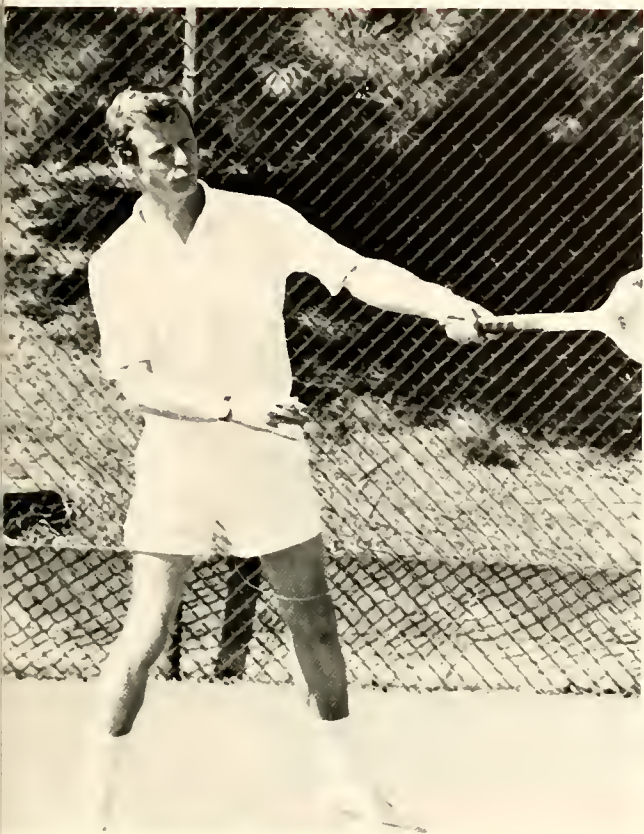

Plans for observing the institution's 200th anniversary caught the interest of many. Plans for the summer session in Asolo caught the fancy of others. Plans for graduate school, jobs and marriage caught—and held—the attention of Seniors. And Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen caught and held their breath as they awaited with interest the arrival of Salem's 14th President, Dr. John H. Chandler. The 13th President was caught up in plans for a less strenuous life as the roller-coaster slowed its speed for him to dismount at year's end. He had been up and down, around curve after curve, then up and down repeatedly for 22 years.

—Dale H. Gramley

Six hundred people, two hundred and fifty-seven days, and eighteen buildings make one year at Salem College . . . but there is still more to the story . . . there are many places, many times . . . many changes . . .
